

Remarks

With the above amendments, applicant has introduced new claims to define the invention more particularly and distinctly so as to overcome the technical rejections and define the patentability of the invention over the prior art. Applicant respectfully requests reconsideration of the subject application with these newly added claims, and submits that, after consideration thereof, this application should be deemed to now be in condition for allowance. Such action, and passage of the application to issuance, is therefore earnestly solicited.

Yours Very Respectfully,
